FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

WHAT OLD ABE SAID

Abraham Lincoln had strong opinions about things. On economics he said: "Prosperity is the fruit of labor, property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. . . . Let not him who is homeless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently to build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence. . . . I take it that it is best for all to leave each man free to acquire property as fast as he can. Some will get wealthy. I don't believe in a law to prevent a man from getting rich, it it would do more harm than good."

CANADA IS PAYING WITH ITS FINEST

An official statement sets at 10,025 the casualties to date in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Of these 3,654 are known to be dead, 2,249 are presumed dead, 2,068 are currently reported missing, 1,039 are prisoners of war, and 15 are interned in neutral countries.

It is a heavy price we have paid, and must pay, to save our country from the bloody hands of the aggressors. We pay in the lives of these thousands of Canada's finest young men—boys fresh from high school, boys quitting university to enlist or leaving their first jobs, robbing the generation from which would have been recruited men for the professions, for business and industry, for public life.

We pay, too, in the grief of thousands of Canadian homes for their sons thus fallen in battle—great homes and small, city flats, little homes on the prairies, homes in the small towns and on the Eastern countryside. But it is grief in which pride, too, has a part, for every one of these gallant lads joined up because he saw that as his duty, and counted his own life as nothing in the tremendous issues involved.

We have said "good-bye" to many of these young men who came to see us when on "embarkation leave." Without exception they were keen to leave for the front, to do the job for which they had been trained. They knew the risks, the price they would probably have to pay, hoped that further operational training would be short. They were an inspiration to all of us who had the opportunity of talking with them.

It has been said often, and of course it is tragic truth, that war demands of us our best and bravest young men. These ten thousand Canadian casualties represent a small part of our total contribution to the winning of the war and prove to the world that our contribution of fighting men is a very considerable one. They are a sacrifice to the hateful spirit of brutal aggression of Germany, Italy and Japan, and we must see to it that their sacrifice is not in vain.

ST. BENEDICT ON IMMIGRATION

Since all Canadians, with the possible exception of Eskimos and Indians, are either immigrants or the descendants of immigrants, the widespread prejudice against further immigration rests on a shaky foundation of logic.

Most of us will admit the theoretical desirability of populating our vacant spaces, but always there is the mental reservation that the newcomers may turn out to be uncongenial neighbours.

The prejudice is as strong among second and third generation Canadians as among those whose ancestors came to the country two hundred years ago. French-Canadians have the fear that unrestricted immigration may make the minority speaking their native tongue relatively smaller, but before the war they showed no great enthusiasm about attracting immigrants from France. Recent immigrants from the British Isles do not always receive a warm welcome from Canadians of English, Scotch or Irish descent.

Research on an entirely different subject has brought to light a quotation from the Rule of St. Benedict, that might be adapted to our national problem of assimilation. Among the regulations he prescribed for the conduct of his monastic order in the sixth century was the following:

"If any pilgrim monk comes from distant parts and wishes as a guest to dwell within the monastery, and will be content with the customs which he finds in the place . . . he shall be received for as long a time as he desires. But if he hath been found gossipy and contumacious in the time of his sojourn as guest, not only ought he not to be joined to the body of the monastery, but also it shall be said to him, honestly, that he must depart. If he does not go, let two stout monks, in the name of God, explain the matter to him."

"I WAS AMAZED TO FIND . . ."

"Berlin, July 22—I was amazed when I found today that one had to pay $4,000 for a ham sandwich, whereas yesterday, in the same cafe, a ham sandwich cost only $3.50."

"Berlin, July 25—Imagine paying for one's dinner with half a dozen packets of paper, each as large as a Bible. The transport of money has become a serious problem."

"Hamburg, July—In the shops the prices are typewritten and posted hourly. For instance, a gramophone at 10 a.m. was $1,250,000, but at 3 p.m. it was $3,000,000. A copy of the Daily Mail purchased on the street yesterday cost $4,750, but today it cost $15,000."

"Berlin, August 16—Yesterday my chop at lunch cost $150,000, but today it cost $375,000."

The above, incredible as it may seem, are reprints of German news dispatches which appeared in London newspapers in the year 1923, with this one change, that the prices have been translated into dollars at the pre-World War I rate of four German marks to the dollar.

That is precisely what happens when inflation gets really going. Up go wages. Still higher up go prices and down sinks the real buying power of money. The only sensible policy, once inflation has set in, is to spend as quickly as possible, while money retains any value at all. There is utterly no point at all in saving, and the money one has carefully put aside in the days when money was good suffers equally in value with the new money which is thrown off the busy printing press.

What happened in Germany twenty years ago can happen in any country, including Canada today, unless wage and price ceilings are adhered to determined by everyone. Already in the United States the upward swing of prices is beginning to be felt, and to a lesser though an appreciable degree, the tendency towards inflation can be observed in Canada, as wages rates find time to time are dislocated.

The whole thing can be avoided only if certain rules are observed by us all. They are, admittedly, rules which require continuous personal discipline. They require, too, that we shall impose them upon ourselves and not merely approve them for the use of other people.

They are these: we must all spend less, even though we may earn more than ever before in our lives. We must refrain from buying simply because we think we want articles which we really do not need. We must firmly refuse to have anything to do with black markets or with sellers who offer us desirable things at prices above the accepted ceiling. What we have over and above what is needed for our reasonable necessities should immediately be invested in Victory Bonds for future use when supplies and prices have once again become normal.

Such a policy is not merely patriotic. It is the sanest and most self-interested policy that can be devised. But, with too many it becomes an unpopular policy as soon as its personal application is pressed upon them. The worst of it is that the thoughtless group can wreck the monetary system of Canada for the rest of us. There has been plenty of sound advice on this matter given by men who know the truth—among them, Mr. Hickey himself. But, nothing, in the long run, but the strong force of public opinion will ever bring the real facts home to the unthinking. If it could become unfashionable to be anything but austere in our living these days, the desired object would soon become accomplished.

A speaker who does not strike oil in ten minutes should stop boring.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

THIRTY-FIVE years ago last Saturday morning (Saturday, January 14, 1909), one of the worst calamities that ever struck Grimsby and district occurred. In the early hours of a cold, blustery, winter morning the lives of five of Grimsby's citizens were snuffed out in the twinkling of an eyelash. One other hovered between life and death for days. And one, a little dimpled, blue-eyed baby, escaped unscathed, but orphaned.

It was one of the first big stories that I ever worked on, and one that I have always hoped would never happen again. As I wrote in The Toronto Daily News, at that time, "It was a happy party of young people who drove away from the Institute hall, Winona, early Saturday morning for their homes in Grimsby, but sad to relate, only one of the party ever reached her earthly home. Five have gone to a grander, better and eternal home, one lies in St. Joseph's hospital severely injured."

The party consisting of Wm. Wilson 21, Mrs. Wm. Wilson 22 (Ida Teeter), Geo. Teeter 23, M. Geo. Teeter 22 (Gertrude Nelson), Gordon Nelson 18, were killed outright. Lottie Teeter 17, (Mr. James Gowland) was severely injured but survived. Little Beulah Teeter, 11 months (Mrs. Cecil Farrow) thickly wrapped in blankets as protection from the cold, was picked up uninjured, and still asleep, in a snow bank some considerable time after the accident happened. Eight small children were orphaned by this catastrophe.

The party had been accompanied to the dance at Winona by Arthur Westworth and Mrs. Burt and Orland Cowell. Westworth and Mrs. Burt left the sleigh on Main street and Cowell jumped off at John street, only a few yards from the scene of the accident. He went down John street to his home and knew nothing of the accident until the next morning.

The party continued down Depot street to the G.T.R. Station. Just as the team and sleigh crossed the rails, out of the night like a thunderbolt, shot the Chicago express, at 60 miles an hour. A crash. The air was filled with splintered wood, flying bodies of horses and humans. Fire flew from the brake-shoes as the mighty giant of death ground to a stop. 2:55 in the morning. Grimsby is asleep, but Samuel Bonham, night operator on duty at the station, soon aroused medical aid and other help.

Members of the train crew rushed back to the scene. Down from one of the pullman cars stepped an Angel of Mercy, in Miss MacDonald, a nurse on her way to New York city. She soon realized that four were gone, that Nelson was going and there was only a ray of hope for Miss Teeter. With a practiced hand and a trained brain she centered her energies on the work of saving the young girl. She stayed with her until the seven o'clock westbound train in the morning arrived and accompanied her to the hospital in Hamilton. Her efforts were suitably rewarded by the village council.

Citizens of Grimsby were greatly disturbed over this accident, as it was only seven short years before, December 7th, 1902, that three popular young Grimsby people had been killed at this same crossing.

ing, namely Miss Maud Hughes, Miss Gertrude Halmer and Harry Brady, a native of Ferry Sound, but a compositor in The Independent office. Also several other bad crashes had occurred at this crossing due to the poor visibility afforded. At the time of this crash a person had to be absolutely on the tracks to see if a train was coming from the west, owing to the large number of freight cars standing on the side tracks. It was at this crossing that Alfred Teeter, father of three of the victims had been twice struck by a train and it was due largely to the injuries that he received in the second crash that caused his death.

The railway officials. Consternation reigned in parliament. Great vituperation was hurled on the heads of Mammatory circles in Ottawa when the late E. A. Lancaster, K.C., M.P., stated to newspaper reporters the morning after this accident, "It would have been better for Canada, that it had been five Senators that had been killed, instead of those five citizens of Grimsby." He was taking another crack at the Senate, which had persistently killed his Railway Bills after they had successfully passed the House. Had his Bills become law there would have been a gate and a watchman on this fatal crossing and on every other important or near important crossing in the Dominion.

It was after this accident that the Railway Commission ordered gates placed on this crossing and they are still there, although an attempt was made before the Railway Board seven years ago to have them removed and a wig-wag installed, but Reeve Johnson presented such a strong case for their retention, before the Board, that they would not order their removal.

The real direct cause of this great fatality was the work of some sneak thief. Mr. Wilson was the manager of the Jack VanDyke farm at that time, and it was the farm team and sleigh that he had at Winona. He left the hall about 1:30 to see how the horses were and discovered that some miscreant had stolen the blankets off of them. He would not allow his horses to stand out in the bitter cold without protection, so gathered up his party and left for home. Ordinarily they would not have left the dance until three o'clock or after.

BEAMSVILLE COUNCIL

Agreement that all payments for all taxes will be made to whoever is finally decided as the proper owner.

There is a possibility that taxes in the village will be collected four times a year in the future, also that a discount will be allowed to taxpayers who pre-pay their taxes. This is a question that will be discussed further at the February meeting.

Garbage system is working out to the satisfaction of all and will be continued as at present.

Beamsville War Service Committee has done a marvellous work in the past three years and as Reeve Saunders pointed out, is one of the best committees in Ontario and he hoped that it would continue to operate in such an efficient manner.

Council passed a bylaw to borrow $120,000 to meet current, ordinary expenditures and the sum to be raised in the current year, for high and vocational school purposes, until taxes are collected, the rate of interest not to exceed five per cent.

Accounts totalling $732.17, for the balance of 1943 were ordered paid. Also accounts totalling $1,208.15, from Jan. 1st to Jan. 10th, 1944.

WAR CERTIFICATES

When this bundle of paper arrived at its destination, it broke open, and Albert Mitchell, while glancing over the collection, while the team and wagon were turning around. His eye was attracted to a highly colored printed envelope (an envelope of the firm that the gentleman represents). He picked it up, felt that there was something inside. He withdrew the contents and noted that they were War Certificates. He noted the name on the certificates. He knew the family reference but he did not know the family.

Mitchell made it his business to hunt up the owner of the certificates and return them to him. We do not know what reward the gentleman gave Mitchell. It's none of our business but we do know that the gentleman is more realistic about our town workmen than he was previously.

R. OF E. ENDS YEAR

caretake at $1,250 a year. Illness among pupils, it was reported, brought public school attendance for December down to 79.74 per cent.

F. V. Smith, high school principal, told board members that despite the fact that he had refused to grant work permits to certain boys wishing to leave school to work in factories, etc., the boys had apparently secured the necessary permits elsewhere. The question of authority will be investigated by the board.

Regret was expressed by board members that no local organization had taken direct action toward establishment of an open air rink for local and township children. Appointment of an attendance officer for 1944 was laid over.

THE INDEPENDENT

centre ice rink. Now when you get that pair together it's something. It was something too. They had a hide to hang on the fence. It was The Independent's skin. They hung it.

When they left the Sanatorium the wind on the roof was flapping like a Monday morning's wash in a high wind. The Editor was under the desk and the rest of the staff had long decamped out the back door.

The only good thing about their visit was the fact that they both doffed their hats to the late Mr. John A. MacDonald, K.C.D. whose picture hangs over the editor's desk.

Come back again sometime, boys, but let us know first, so we can get armored.

Mainly For MILADY

A Ration Coupon Meditates

I am a little coupon about the size of a postage stamp. I come in a book with a soft paper cover, about three inches by six. I fit into a lady's purse or a man's breast pocket and everyone thinking am pretty precious, for if I get lost, they have a deuce of a time get another to take my place, and they might have to go without tea or coffee until I am found, or replaced.

When I am green they use me for tea and coffee, red goes for sugar. I am a sort of light purple for butter, brown for sort of gaudy yellow for jam, marmalade, syrup, honey or an extra half pound of sugar.

You'd never think such a little thing as I am could be so important, but women take me to Ladies' Aids, Red Cross work rooms, and I've even been to church right next to their collection envelopes. I feel wonderful in church, because you know we (my sister coupons and I) sort of stand for what church really means, honesty, a square deal for everyone, share and share alike, like they teach you there, being sure you'll get what's coming to you, and all that.

You'd never dream the attention I get! I am given a special niche in their purses, so I'll be safe and even though they claw through their other stuff hunting for sticks, car tickets, handkerchiefs, make-up kits and all, they kind of look over me carefully for fear I might get misplaced.

And the way they talk. You get a couple of women together with a coupon book apiece and they really go to town, they get pencils and paper out, jot down numbers or use the dot-and-dash-one method, but it all adds up to the same thing, it's rationing, price control, bacon, tea, coffee, sugar, and take it from me, I'm the news because I am a coupon.

The Dean On Dishwashing

I have often thought that if men had to wash the family dishes they would do something to relieve the home of this drudgery.

According to the Vancouver Province, Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the very reverend, and sometimes irreligious, Dean of Canterbury, recently became acquainted with the ancient institution of washing pots and pans. Now he would abolish all dishwashing, which he considers disgusting, degrading and a social evil no longer to be tolerated.

The worthy prelate, it seems, got "sunk" in the sink after his wife and children were evacuated to North Wales when the deanery was bombed and the "front rooms" were rendered uninhabitable. Since he had to remain on his job, he took up residence in a sort of tower where the servants formerly lived. One old woman only remains to look after His Very Reverence, who lightens her tasks by making his own bed and, often as not, cooking his own breakfast.

The dean was telling a friend about his domestic troubles: "On Wednesdays the maid takes her day off and I 'manage' for myself. I use as few dishes as possible, to save washing up. I do not put my hands in the greasy water. I stir it with a mop."

At this point the sturdy prelate, who is 60, controlled his rising anger with an effort. Womanhood, he exclaimed, must be relieved of the nuisance of washing dishes. There ought to be in every home a machine into which they could put all the dirty dishes and squirt hot water or steam over them. Or a hatchway should be built in a corner of the dining-room into which the dirty dishes could be dumped to be picked up by a cart which would take them to a municipal dishwashing factory to be cleaned and sterilized and returned unbroken ready for the next meal.

Many Canadian restaurants, hotels and even private residences have electrical dishwashing machines, which abolish dishpan bawls. Inquiry elicits the information these are off the market for the duration, but will be available after the war. How about it, men? Remember the slogan: "Don't kill your wife; let the Hydro do it!" Bortonian in Globe and Mail.

Any Rags Today?

From the salvage of rubber tires and tubes, worn out hot water bottles etc., Canadians have turned to the salvage of rags. Rags, especially cotton, have become a high priority item on the lists at Voluntary Salvage Depots throughout the Dominion. Rags have a hundred uses in war and civilian industry. In the picture above, an expert rag sorter is playing her part in the nation's war effort. Her job is to divide salvaged rags into the dozens of classifications according to quality, size and colour.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! As the shelves of Canadian shops are becoming depleted due to scarcity of certain articles of food and to the requirements of the military forces, each household must be governed more and more economically, with the focal point on sufficient nourishing food for the family.

It must become apparent to every loyal homemaker that the conserving of vitamin content in foods at our disposal is most important. Cooking, therefore, in these wartime days needs to be accomplished by proper planning and study of those methods which preserve that nutritive quality—guess-work today is "out" and every homemaker should realize it. It may call for a discipline in regard to food and its preparation never before employed in a large number of households, but a family to be cared for is the homemaker's responsibility, and not many will shirk it in this present time of need. Gather your ammunition to assist with Canada's Nutrition Program—Now Food Fights for Freedom.

TAKE A TIP

To Prevent Loss of Food Values in Cooking Meat

Use gentle heat, and don't overcook. Long cooking at high temperature not only has a destructive action on thiamin, but it dries out meat, fish and poultry, and toughens, rather than tenderizes. Learn to use low temperatures for roasting (325 degrees F. to 350 degrees F.) and, roast uncovered. Use short cooking methods when feasible—that is, for all tender cuts. Be sure, however, to cook all forms of fresh pork very thoroughly, to avoid danger, which comes from eating underdone pork. It is better to accept some destruction of vitamin B1 (of which pork is a rich source) than to risk infection. To avoid vitamin losses, avoid leftovers of cooked meats so far as is practical. Serve leftover roasts sliced cold when possible, rather than warmed over. Reheating causes increased vitamin loss.

Basic Recipe for Pot Roast

A delicious roast may be prepared in this way from the less expensive cuts of beef. Cuts of chuck, rump, round, shoulder, short ribs, brisket, plate or flank, may be used for pot roast. It may be cooked with the bones in, or they may be removed and the meat rolled and tied or skewered securely.

When the roast is rolled it is easier to serve in slices, and the bones may be saved to use in the soup pot. The bones in the short ribs are left in.

3 1/2-4 lb. meat
flour, salt and pepper
3 tbs. fat or drippings
1/2 cup hot water

Heat the fat slowly in a heavy deep skillet or deep-well cooker. Dredge the meat with flour and brown well on all sides. Season with salt and pepper, add hot water, cover, and let simmer until tender. Add more water as it cooks away. Turn occasionally; simmer 3-4 hours or until tender. Remove to a hot platter and thicken the gravy with 2 tbs. flour blended in the fat remaining in the pan. Gradually stir in 2 cups cold water, and continue stirring until thick and smooth. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

Thrifty Changes

One onion finely chopped or sliced may be added while browning meat.

Try one or two garlic cloves finely chopped.

One tablespoon vinegar added to the water helps to season and make the meat more tender.

One-half cup grated horse-radish may be added in gravy.

One bay leaf (broken) and a few chili tepalines may be added.

One tablespoon of any meat sauce such as Worcestershire, adds to the flavour.

Adding 1/2 tsp. of any favorite herb (thyme, rosemary, etc.) will give the roast a delicious savory flavour.

One teaspoon caraway seed or celery seed is a favorite seasoning. Tomato juice may be added instead of water.

Add plenty of hot tomato juice or stewed tomatoes the last half-hour. Season with garlic and add 1 cup spaghetti, rice or macaroni, and cook until tender.

Whole vegetables (washed and peeled onions, potatoes, carrots, turnips, etc.) may be placed around the meat the last hour. They make a delicious dinner all cooked in one pot.

Try cooking a few parsnips around the roast, arranging them on the platter and sprinkling with a little nutmeg and a few drops of lemon.

Soak a few dried mushrooms for one hour, and add them with the juice to roast the last 20 minutes. Chopped celery tops and parsley are another adventure in flavouring.

Noodles may be added the last 15 or 20 minutes.

Dumplings are always good and are another way to please everyone. Remove the roast to a hot platter, and keep hot while dumplings are cooking. Have about 2 1/2 cups liquid in kettle when you drop in the dumplings.

The Red Cross

Wherever war with its black woes,
Or flood, or fire, or famine goes—
There, too, am I!

Wherever strength and skill can bring
Relief to human suffering,
There, too, am I!

I go wherever men may dare,
I go wherever woman's care
And love can live—
If earth in any quarter aches,
Or pestilence its ravage makes,
My help I give.

The cross which on my arm I wear,
The flag which o'er my breast I bear

Are but the sign;
I am the ambassador for you;
I do what you would surely do—
If you were there!

Sugar Rationing

Because the sugar plantations of the Philippines and the Netherlands East Indies are still in enemy hands, there is no immediate prospect of an end of sugar rationing.

More Children's Shoes

Plans to increase production of shoes for children by at least a million pairs in 1944, have been worked out by the industry and the Price Board.

Meat Charts

Meat charts must be exhibited by retailers so that the buying public will be fully acquainted with cuts and prices.

"What's Mummy up to now?", asks the little girl in the picture above. Mummy is helping to conserve the family's winter coal supply by shutting off the bedroom register. She does this each morning in all the rooms that are not used during the day time and makes sure that windows and doors are kept closed. The Department of Munitions and Supply state that substantial savings of coal result from this practice.

Be home by 8 p.m. on Sunday nights because after that time the troops have priority and no extra buses will be available for civilian passengers. Please cooperate to avoid congestion.

Grimsby and District Red Cross Annual meeting was held in Trinity Hall on January 7th, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. R. N. Wolfenden, President, was in the Chair. Father O'Donnell opened the meeting with prayer.

The President spoke of the necessity of untiring effort still necessary, and expressed the hope that each and every one would find time always, for the Red Cross.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by Mrs. Boden, the Secretary, and approved. Mayor E. S. Johnson, spoke of his pleasure at being invited and of his pride in the men and women on Active Service, and the Red Cross workers.

The report of the year's work was given by the Secretary, Mrs. Boden. The District is divided into 14 working divisions. 3512 articles were knitted during the year.

Knitted articles for the Service: 1824 Civilian knitting and sewing 1868

Total 3512 Included in the civilian work were donations valued at $31.60.

70 quilts were made in the Branch area.

It is encouraging for Red Cross workers to know that their work is so appreciated by one of our home boys. Mrs. Herb. Hagar states that she has a letter from her boy, Jim, who is stationed in Labrador. In it he told about their Christmas treat. On Christmas Eve they had a special show and at the close, the Red Cross representatives presented each soldier with a splendid parcel of gifts. It is extremely cold up there, and all the boys were delighted with the contents of the parcel.

Jim's contents: 2 large bath-towels, 2 pr. pyjamas, 1 large face cloth, 3 pr. socks, 1 scarf, 1 pr. gloves, 1 cap, that would cover his face well, (probably a ribbed helmet).

Mr. Wm. Hewson gave a report of the Blood Donors Clinic, which was opened in June, and there have been 100 donors a month since that time.

Mrs. Warner, President of the Women's Institute, gave the report of the Jam Making, which they have undertaken for several years, and read some interesting letters, telling of the pleasure given in nurseries and hospitals in England, by our Canadian Jam.

Miss Eva Cline gave a very interesting reading. Mr. J. R. G. spoke of the Navy League progress for the year, working on the Merchant Seamen.

Mr. A. R. Globe gave a very interesting talk on the West Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

Mr. R. C. Bourne then took the chair for the nominations. He explained that instead of making up the slate as formerly, which incidentally was always a very difficult undertaking, that this time he would call for nominations from the floor. Mr. J. R. Jackson, from the floor, made the motion that the officers of the 1943 are to be re-elected.

as a whole. Seconded by Mr. Jas. Walker. Mr. Harold Woolverton then moved that nominations be closed. The Officers are as follows:

President, Mrs. R. N. Wolfenden; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Harold Jackson; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. P. V. Smith; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. Richard Shafer; 4th Vice-President, Miss Olive Kitchen.

A vote of thanks to the officers of 1943, was made by Miss Harriet Walsh, who made a special call to service.

Secretary, Mrs. Claude Boden; Treasurer, Miss Ann Crane.

Eastern Star

A cable recently received by the Ontario Chapters of the Eastern Star, from Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to England, reads as follows: "Congratulations to the Ontario Chapters Order Eastern Star on their splendid achievements and sincere thanks for the magnificent donations for canteens."

The combined efforts of Eastern Star members throughout the province have made it possible to send eighteen mobile canteens overseas. At present the Star from all over Canada has 41 of these canteens operating in Britain.

It was decided at this meeting to keep on making quilts for the Red Cross. After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. McAlone and Mrs. E. L. Stonehouse. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. J. Dymond, on Murray Street.

Trinity Bible Class

The annual meeting of the Trinity Bible Class was held in the form of a pot luck supper on Friday, Jan. 7th, at Trinity Hall. Coward; Ladies' Consolation, won by Mrs. Geo. Crittenden. Men's high, won by Mr. A. Herdington; Men's consolation, won by Mr. Wm. Sangster. In Bridge, high score was held by Mrs. Earl Cornwell, Jr.; low score, Mr. W. H. Morris.

Refreshments were served by Sister Udoora Stewart and her committee.

The next card party will be held on February 8th at 8.45 p.m.

A your note is one you are unable to collect.

The annual meeting of the Grimsby Branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society was held at Trinity Hall, Jan. 8th, 1944.

The President, Mr. J. O. Moore presided.

The advisability of having a set date for Bible Sunday in the various churches was discussed, and a recommendation that the first Sunday in December be selected, was passed.

Ways and means of bringing before the public the real importance of the work of the interdenominational Bible Society was also considered.

The election of officers for 1944 was as follows: President, Mr. J. O. Moore; Vice-President, Mr. W. E. O'Donnell; Treasurer, Mr. R. D. O'Donnell; Secretary, Mrs. C. Boden.

The Committee of church representatives remained unchanged.

We wish to acknowledge, with thanks, a contribution of $2.00 from the Grimsby Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Capt. William G. James, son of George W. James, editor, the Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville, has been wounded in action in Italy. He enlisted as a private in 1940, won his commission at the Officers' Training Centre, Brockville, was transferred to the Canadian Armored Corps, west overseas in 1942.

The Industrial Accident Prevention Association has released figures from the Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario as follows: Last year, there were 121,458 accidents, including 424 fatalities reported to the Board. In 1942, the figures were 123,513 and 429.

His bicycle, however, was completely smashed when run over by a bus which came along at that moment and could not be stopped in time to avoid hitting it. The car involved, police said, was driven by Kenneth Sherwood, of Beamsville.

Bring In Books On Saturday

Already you're planning to spend many long winter evenings beside your own fire in the company of a good book. Plan now, too, to extend that same pleasant companionship to those who will be far from their own firesides... who will be defending your... those coming bleak, cold evenings. You can do it, all of you, very easily.

Just send the most entertaining used books you have to the nearest I.O.D.E. chapter or leave it at your local Post Office, no postage necessary... and the I.O.D.E. will send them to wherever Canadian men and women, on land or sea, are fighting, training, on guard, hospitalized or imprisoned.

This is only half of the story. Fifty per cent of the books shipped to camps by the I.O.D.E. are brand new books. These are purchased through the I.O.D.E. Camps Library Fund... so this month, whether its books, or money to buy books for the services... make your contribution to the I.O.D.E. Camps Library Fund.

Books can be delivered to Hillier's old store, on Saturday of this week.

The Friends' Flooders Union, No. 6365, has been busy the past few days flooding a rink on the east lawn of the school. This is purely a school undertaking, and will be administered as such. There will probably be a small charge on certain days, this has not been definitely decided as yet. Why are there not more of these rinks in our town? One often wonders.

There will be a school dance in the Aud. on Fri. night. If some of our budding Romances could leave their first love for about five minutes, the party would be in the form of a Box-Social. Oh—to be in the clouds again!

The school is—most of the time a scenic place. Each day as we begin our studies, we're stands in front of our fine edifice a row of modern autos—that is, all but "Minnie" can be called modern. "Minnie" is the scrap driver's dream—four blobs of rubber, a bit of glass and a mass of twisted metal. "Minnie" never shows up on days when salvage is being collected—funny.

Cars Crash Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKenzie, Fort Erie, and their two young children had a narrow escape from injury on Sunday afternoon when their car crashed into a cement railing of a bridge and overturned on the Queen Elizabeth Way after being involved in collision with another car.

Police said that the McKenzie car was enroute when another, in charge of Keith Middlemiss, St. Catharines, going in the same direction, bumped into it while attempting to pass the Fort Erie car swinging out of line to pass another just at that moment.

The Middlemiss car also went out of control and bumped the bridge but did not overturn. East-bound lane of the highway was completely blocked until the cars could be moved. Provincial Constables Elmer Bowyer and Ernest Hart investigated.

The depression of that period when a bell boy didn't turn up his nose at a dime tip.

Boy Scouts

In place of our regular scout meeting at the High school the Grimsby Boy Scouts and their group committee, V. Catton and W. Greig, enjoyed a trip to Winona. Thirty-five boys assembled in front of Carm Millard's store to catch the 7:15 p.m. bus to Winona where our Grimsby troop were assisting the District Secretary Scotty Fleming of Hamilton in investigating Scoutmaster Jeff Hambrook and Asst Scoutmaster George Elliott and Howard Bridgeman in the opening of their new Scout troop at Winona. Grimsby troop received a thrill when they were inspected by the District Secretary. After he had made his rounds he pronounced Patrol leader Leon Betner as having the most efficient patrol and that patrol leader J. Bant ran a good second. Cheers for these patrols were given by the boys.

After the investiture of Winona's leaders, the new Scoutmaster, Jeff Hambrook proceeded to invest his patrol leaders Allan Bradshaw, Robert Hambrook, Robert Cox, George Monroe. Patrol colours were presented to these boys from the Grimsby troop by Acting Asst Scoutmaster Douglas Bedford. Patrol leader's stripes were pinned on these boys by King Scout Ian Marr of the Grimsby troop.

Winona troop has made a splendid beginning and we know that on Friday night next a real group of anxious prospective Winona Scouts will be assembled at their scout headquarters. Winona has the real Scout spirit which was amply shown in the attendance of a real live wire Scout Group committee. This group held a private session in one of the side rooms where Grimsby's group chairman, Vic Catton and Wm. Greig helped these men to feel their way in planning for real group assistance.

After exciting games were enjoyed by all the Grimsby troop rushed to catch their 10 p.m. bus home, happy that they were able to help more boys enjoy the privilege of Scouting.

CUBBING

On Friday, January 14th, in the Assembly Hall of the Public School at 4 p.m., the Pack will be opened to all boys of the town and district between the ages of eight and twelve—that is the recruit must have passed his eighth but not yet reached his twelfth birthday.

Slacks for the Pack are: Peter Phelps, Allen Bentley, Leslie Walters, Gary Scott and Cliff Schwab. While the following will act as Seconds: Merritt Anderson, Dean Wilson, Chris Wade, Douglas Kelterborn and Billy Robertson. These ten boys have now completed the training course under cub master Cyril Mott and have received their armlets.

Wounded In Italy

C.Q.M.S. Banks, Grimsby Beach was wounded in action on December 31, official notification to that effect he's received by his wife on Saturday. He enlisted in the Royal Canadian Engineers a few days after Canada entered the war in September, 1939, and arrived overseas in December, 1939. He left Canada as a sapper and earned his present rank overseas. Letters received by his wife recently indicated that he was serving in Italy.

NOMINATIONS

Owing to the fact that council is not a solid body they concurred in the idea that no more than the very least routine business should be transacted. Bonds of A. Hummel and G. G. Bourne, were renewed. General accounts amounting to $634.15 were passed as were accounts for the Joint Fire Committee for $690.96. A letter from the Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E. was read, wherein that body expressed sincere thanks for the financial assistance that the council had given them in the past.

Council received a more or less surprise, when Clerk Bourne read a letter from the Imperial Oil Co. requesting information, as to how they could pre-pay taxes for 1944. There is not much doubt but what Tax Collector Hummel will give them that information, pretty fast.

Mayor Johnson informed council that there was a credit at County Council, of $1,289.93, that was immediately being applied on the County Rate for 1944.

Police conditions are not as they should be, in the Town of Grimsby, at least that is the strain of thought that ran through council. His Worship stated very bluntly that he was not satisfied with the work of the Police Committee of the past year. He had yet to be able to get a report from that committee, notwithstanding the fact that conditions were not as they should be from a police standpoint.

The Mayor was very emphatic in stating that there was too much profane language and loud talking taking place on Main street, particularly on Sunday evenings, yet the Police Committee had never made a report on anything. He believed, and council concurred with him, that the Police Committee should see that every move the police made was recorded. Every complaint received was recorded and the disposition of that case recorded and a report made to council every month.

A bylaw to borrow $25,000 from the Bank of Commerce for current expenses was passed. Council adjourned at 8.55 p.m.

DITTY BAGS BRING

I should like at this time, to extend my many thanks and deepest appreciation for your most gracious gesture. It is also very gratifying to know that we have so many friends across the border, although Americans have always been noted for their generosity.

Wishing you every happiness in the New Year, I remain,
Very truly yours,

Dear Friend:-

I address you so, because I am sure that anyone who would go to the trouble of making up such a lovely Ditty Bag as you did, in the one I was so lucky to get, must be a friend of all men in the Navy.

And believe me, you can have the satisfaction of knowing you got two bright spots in someone's Christmas, for I was not feeling any too good right then, in fact I was pretty blue, being so far away from home (Windsor) and family at Christmas is no fun. But I suppose we will have to be content and hope the next one will be different.

The second bright spot came when I don't happen to be a smoker, and turned over the smokes and tobacco to a friend, not quite so fortunate as I. He also sends you his thanks.

Well in closing I must thank you again from the bottom of my heart for the Good Deed.

Hoping you had a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. I will always remember it.

Yours,

December 28, 1943.

Dear Mrs. Moore:-

I'm not very good at letter writing, so don't expect too much of this. I received a ditty bag from you and I sure was pleased. I'm wearing the socks right now, as I was on my last pair. Christmas time sure is lonely when you are away from home, but I hope next year we are all there.

My ditty bag was the envy of my mates here. I'm stationed in the Fire Hall here for a few months. I have been to quite a few interesting places, but as you probably know, we are not allowed to say much in our letters. But I'm sure hoping to get back to see again.

If you answer this, my address is at the bottom, and it will eventually catch up to me. Thanking you again.

I remain,

Dear Madam:-
On Christmas Day I was the recipient of a ditty bag which was donated by Anna Crane, of the White Elephant Shop.

I have written to the donor thanking her for the very nice gifts which I received in the ditty bag.

It certainly was very nice of your organization to think of us at Christmas time, as it made the day that much more pleasant, and made us think that we were not so very far away from home.

We had a very nice time on board ship on Christmas day. We had a nice turkey dinner, with plum pudding. The mess deck was decorated with coloured lights and Christmas decorations. In one corner we had a Christmas tree.

I hope all your members will have a very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Your truly,
F. E. Arnold.

N. GRIMSEY COUNCIL

over the metering of water. Councillor Mitchell claimed that it was only a waste of money placing meters on water connections where it was a small family. His experience had shown him that a small family of two or three people did not use 30,000 gallons of water (the minimum) in two years, let alone one year, therefore the placing of a meter on this connection was a waste of money. Deputy-Reeve Crittenden, took the stand that water rates were too low. The rates should be raised and the meters taken off entirely. Supt. Fred Schwab was in a maze. He had orders for 16 meters and only had eight meters on hand. He's still in a maze for the argument was never settled.

Councillor Mitchell, who this year is celebrating his 50th anniversary in municipal politics, having been elected to council in the village of Grimsby for the first time in 1894, was in very fine fettle and ready to do argument with anybody on any question. The doughty old warrior brought up the question of farmers from the township coming to town on certain days and finding the stores all closed. As Mr. Mitchell said "I do not know how these merchants expect to do business with the farmers from the township, if they keep their stores locked up all the time. It is time that they got some sense into their heads and tried to do business with the people from the township that wish to do business with them."

Circulation of books at Grimsby Public Library is larger than it ever has been and the number of people borrowing books is on the increase. A grant of $850 was made to the library, an increase of $30.

Water consumption in the East End for December was 390,000 gallons; West End, 112,000 gallons.

J. J. MacKay, Township Engineer, wrote council that he had instructed Thos. D. Phillips to clean out his portion of the Phillips-Biggar Drain, as per the Award made in 1929. The work to be finished by March 31st.

Letters of thanks were received from The Navy League and the I.O.D.E. for grants given.

A bylaw appointing township officials was passed with the following being appointed:

Clerk and Treasurer—Thos. W. Allan, $800 a year.

Assessor—Gordon Metcalfe, $275.

Collector—J. G. McIntosh.

Engineers—MacKay and Mac-

Kay.
Fence Viewers—Arthur Walker, Harry Schwab, R. O. Smith, Bert Greenwood.

Fruit Pest Inspector—George Mould.

Sheep Valuer—Joseph H. Walker.

Weed Inspector—S. J. Smith.

Supt. of Waterworks—Fred Schwab.

Solicitors—Lancaster, Mix and Sullivan.

Auditor—S. S. Joselyn, $375.

Committees for the year were struck as follows:

Finance—Crittenden and Cowan.

Joint Fire Committee—Reeve, Deputy-Reeve, Nelles.

Road Committee—Mitchell and Cowan.

A grant of $80 was made to the Salvation Army.

A bylaw to borrow $45,000 from Canadian Bank of Commerce, to meet current expenses was passed.

Relief accounts for December reached a new low of $4.

Road accounts for $206.26 were ordered paid.

Second Saturday afternoon in each month was set as regular meeting date.

SHIP STEWARDESS

President Harrison when she was seized by the Japanese the morning Pearl Harbor was attacked. Mrs. Main is a sister of the late Robert Gordon, well known Grimsby contracting mason, and an aunt of Mrs. Charles Terryberry, Manton apartments. Mrs. Main first came to this side of the Atlantic some 18 years ago and resided in Grimsby for a few months with her brother.

Her story as it appeared in the Middletown, N.Y. Times-Herald is a very lengthy one and the brutality that she tells about are almost unbelievable. She was repatriated with the last lot of Canadians and Americans, which arrived in New York on the Gripsholm in December.

TWO SKATING RINKS

Just for your information the kids are not the only ones in town that love to skate. While The Independent was on its way to town council meeting on Monday night it ran into a carload of real people, bent on skating. Clayton "Gas" Rahn and his god frau, the two Rahn daughters, and Donna informed me that she could cut all the figures and do them right. In the back seat of the car was that fine pair of young people from the Forras, Doug, Hartnett and wife and it would not be surprising that there were a couple of other kids there.

It was not extraordinary that these people should go skating. What tickled The Independent was the fact that Rahn was going to take a whirl on the blades, but you never can tell about those husky b's that come from the south country.

UKRAINIANS CELEBRATE

tables are deserted and the various families, full of peace, joy and contentment are found gathered in St. Mary's Ukrainian Catholic Church in Grimsby to hear the Christmas Mass. At the stroke of 12 p.m. High Solemn Mass is begun, celebrated by the parish priest, Rev. N. Kobut O.S.B.M. There is a tangle of excitement as the small altar boys in their red and gold cassocks, followed by two deacons and the priest in golden vestments, approached the altar. The two deacons take the glistering thuribles, unity, grace, precision in every movement, and incense the altar, the congregation and holy pictures. Swiftly the scenes flow one upon another, each woven into a pattern of color, warmth and religious worship. From the choir burst forth glorious Christmas music of the Basilian Brothers, the deep basses in Don Cosack style, blending perfectly with the tenor theme, announcing that it was Christmas Day and that Christ is born.

In one corner of the church stands the great Christ crib, nearly reaching from the floor to the ceiling of the right transept. At the top of a rocky hill effect is shown in miniature, the flat buildings of the town of Bethlehem, the synagogue, the walled fortresses, all full of tiny windows twinkling and flashing whole color schemes through the night. A large Christmas star beams upon the manger in the rock cave below where the Christ Child lay, while gazing upon Him are the figures of His Virgin Mother, St. Joseph, the three kings and the shepherds, with their herd of sheep and mute farm animals. On the brow of the cliff, flickering on and off in strict mechanical precision, were the words in the Old Slavonic language which said, "Glory be to God on High". And indeed as one looked upon the people, one could read the peace in their souls, the joy in their faces and in their hearts their good will to men.

One of the traditions handed down to the Ukrainian Canadians is the custom of Christians Caroling. For many as three days following the Christmas Mass one may see groups of children, oldsters, and young people flushed with happiness and joyous Christmas songs. Everywhere these carollers are eagerly welcomed, the host and hostess treating them with all the good things of the house and then giving a suitable monetary gift in the interest of the church and parish.

On Jan. 8 after Vespers the Ladies of St. Mary's Ukrainian Catholic Church prepared a complete and appetizing dinner in the parish church hall for the whole community. Elderly Mr. Joseph Procyshyn spoke in honor of St. Joseph his patron saint, saying that his heart was full of gladness after seeing the great progress made in church, social and parish activity within the past year. But since the ladies gave the dinner it was decided that they should do the speech making for that evening. For that reason in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Rev. N. Kobut, O.S.B.M. suggested that all the ladies who bore the name of Mary were to be asked to make impromptu speeches. All were excellently delivered, especially by Mrs. Mary Palmer who gave a most enjoyable talk, proving that the women of the parish could do much more than prepare excellent dinners.

Possibly the highlight of the evening was a preview of a new reel picture entitled, "A New Home in the West." This film, the result of two years of untiring efforts of Rev. Lesluk, O.S.B.M., Grimsby, was introduced by him, and for the first time in Canada it was shown to the Grimsby Ukrainians in St. Mary's Church Hall. Soap it shall be shown throughout the Dominion and will illustrate the vast strides the Ukrainian pioneer has made in the West and his inestimable contribution to his new country as a Canadian. Another longer film showed the historical facts of the Carpatho-Ukraine crisis in 1939, when Ukraine had her independence for four months.

And so that day ended and with it the Christmas festivities for the year, but for many a day yet, when a Ukrainian Canadian greets his friend he will say, "Christ is born," and the other in reply will say, "Let him be praised."

The Basilian Fathers wish to thank the Hydro Commission of Ontario and especially Mr. D. C. Thomson of Grimsby and Mr. F. B.

Sutherland of Beamsville for the special permission to use electrical decorations in the church and homes during the Christmas festivities.

Visitors may still see the Christmas Crib in St. Mary's Church on the hill every evening from 7.30 p.m. to 9.00 p.m.

Navy League News

Admiral Murray, in charge of the Canadian Navy operating in the Atlantic, paid a great tribute the other day to the men of the merchant marine, referring to the U boat menace, he said "For your undaunted spirit which has made it possible for us to defeat the U boat menace."

These are the men we are helping every day of the week.

Our thanks to Mr. Jacklin for his donation of $5.00 to the Sailors' Comforts fund; also to Mrs. Roy Taylor for $5.00; Father O'Donnell, $2.00; Mrs. W. Bevan, $1.00; and Miss K. Pyndyk, $1.00.

Motor Licenses

Ready Jan. 24

Highways Minister George Doucett announced Tuesday that owing to unavoidable delays in securing supplies, 1944 motor vehicle permits and drivers' licenses will not be available to the public until Jan. 24. In the meantime the term of 1943 permits and licenses has been extended so that they are valid until those for 1944 are ready.

"Every motorist is urged to preserve his 1943 plate, as it will be continued in use for 1944," said Mr. Doucett. "A windshield stamp will be issued with the 1944 permit and this stamp will authorize the continued use of the 1943 plate."

Coming Events

The next meeting of the Mothers' club will be held on Thursday, January 20th, at the home of Mrs. Jan Hewitt, Robinson St. South.

The January Literary meeting of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I.O.E., will be held on Monday, January 17th at 8 o'clock, at the home of Miss Cline, Grimsby Beach, just east of the Park Road on Highway. Miss Isobel Crawford, who for many years worked with the Kiowa Indians, Oklahoma, will give a talk. All friends are cordially invited.

Hardware Business Changes Hands

The deal was consummated last week whereby Charles F. Brown disposed of Brown's Hardware to Mr. M. A. Johnson of Toronto, who has now taken possession.

It is just 30 years since Charlie Brown purchased this business from J. F. Richardson and Son, and it is exactly 41 years since, as a lad he first started work behind a counter.

Mr. Johnson comes to Grimsby with a wealth of experience in the hardware business, having been for the past few years Toronto manager for Halliday and Co.

Mr. Brown has no immediate plans for the future, but will continue to reside in Grimsby. "Bill" Fisher, for the "eleventh time" has been "sold" with the business.

A man doesn't become attached to his hat until it is so battered he shouldn't be caught wearing it.
